SUPREME COUNCIL FINDS REPARATIONS DIFFICULT TO SOLVE

Lloyd George Says Germany Must Pay to Her Utmost Capacity—Question One of Most Troublesome Before Supreme Council—Referred to Committee of Experts

(By The Associated Press)
PARIS, Jan. 27.—The question of German reparations is again in the hands of a committee of experts. This committee which was appointed after a prolonged discussion by the supreme council this afternoon is to consider certain details and report to the council before a final decision is taken.

The discussion on reparations was taken up this afternoon in an atmosphere made quite unfavorable by the radical position assumed yesterday by M. Doumer, the French minister of finance who named 212,000,000,000 gold marks as the total amount of indemnity Germany should pay.

M. Doumer's attitude, tho' practically disavowed by the press generally and supposedly by some of the members of the French cabinet caused considerable embarrassment at the conference when the subject was resumed. The British prime minister is understood to have clearly indicated that the radical demands made by M. Doumer were impossible of realization.

The committee of which M. Doumer is a member is meeting tonight and will prepare a report as speedily as possible for presentation to the council possibly tomorrow.

Mr. Lloyd George took up the whole question of reparations at the opening of the session of the supreme council. He declared there was no difference of opinion regarding the merits of the problem.

Must Pay to Utmost Capacity.
"Germany must pay to her utmost capacity," he asserted. "In order to assure this the allies must stand together. It is useless to try to get more than Germany can pay for her interests contrary to the opinion sometimes expressed are identical with the interests of the allies."

It is to Great Britain's interests as well as to the interests of the Belgians and French that Germany pay to the last farthing. The question is how to get it.

"Germany could easily pay inside the limits of her own territory but she cannot export her forests for her interests. If the allies took possession of her railways and doubled the passenger and freight rates, they would be paid only in paper marks that would become worthless across the frontier."

It was generally recognized that France had sustained the greatest human loss and endured the greatest suffering, said Mr. Lloyd George, but on the other hand, Great Britain having been obliged to wage war abroad, had been forced to incur the greater of the expenditure.

Her naval effort alone had cost ten billion pounds.

Germany, he continued can pay only in exports. If she exported much to the allies it would mean the ruin of allied industries; if she exported too much to the neutrals it would mean the loss to the allies of the neutral markets. Consequently the question of effectively securing payment of reparations must be taken up with due account for these facts.

Insists on Real Progress.
The British prime minister insisted upon the necessity of real progress at the present conference. This could be accomplished if the French government would accept the Boulogne suggestion as a basis of discussion, that is to say, six billion pounds in thirty or thirty-five annuities with interest.

Certain things must be insisted upon Mr. Lloyd declared—the termination of Germany's capacity to pay, the renovation of Germany's fantastic budget and an imposition upon her people of taxes as heavy as those paid by the allied peoples. Germany must make her people economize as the allies have done; the total of the debt must be fixed and the mode of payment established. Then at a meeting similar to that at Spa, the allies should meet Germany and finally discuss a settlement.

M. Doumer said that Mr. Lloyd George's speech did not change his opinion.

Count Sforza the Italian foreign minister strongly favored the report program of the Belgians. He said it would be a vital mistake to depart from the basis at Boulogne.

Premier Briand then took the floor. He asserted that France was not asking for the impossible. French public opinion was ready to accept what might reasonably be contained but would not accept before investigation a one-sided theory that Germany is unable to pay. He favored six annuities and inquired:

"Why not fix them now and then examine Germany's capacity to pay and consider the matter at another conference?"

Mr. Lloyd George insisted it was essential that something be done now for neither the allies

ALLEGES PIECE WORK OBTAINED BY PROPAGANDA

Statement is Made by Chairman of R. R.
Committee

RETROACTIVE RULES

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—Denouncing the National agreements between the railroads and their employees as restrictive and their of inefficiency and, referring to piece work as obtained by propaganda and undue influence, the railroads made formal request before the railroad labor board for abrogation of the existing agreements.

E. T. Whiter, chairman of the railroad committee before the board in its hearings on rules and working conditions declared the public "pays in freight and passenger rates all the expenses incurred by the railroads due to such inefficiency." His remarks were made in summing up the testimony regarding the effects of abolishing piece work under the national agreements.

Mr. Whiter declared the vote of shippers in favor of abolishing piece work for the hourly wage system was the result of propaganda.

Believes Vote Was Unfair.
He said that he believed the vote was unfair and that at the present time the men in a majority of cases desired to return to piece work.

The railroads under the "transportation act," Mr. Whiter said, "are required to operate economically so that the public will not have to pay excessive rates. The evidence we have introduced regarding abolition of piece work shows that in every case where piece work was abolished for the hourly wage system there was a reduction in the average output, in most cases from 25 to 50 per cent."

"We request the board to permit the re-introduction of methods of paying employees that will offer proper incentive to increased production and give proper and adequate recognition to skill and industry."

"We are seeking the abolition of restrictive rules imposed under government control, such as the one prohibiting piece work. Unless rules can be adopted which tend to promote efficiency and economy of operation the railroads cannot secure the increases in efficiency and economy of operation necessary to protect the public from excessive costs of transportation and excessive rates."

BERGDOLL SAYS AGENTS IN JAIL

Draft Deserter Sends Message to Public Ledger Telling of Arrest of Six Department of Justice
Agents—Seeking German Citizenship.

BERLIN, Jan. 27.—The foreign office and ministry of justice this morning received from the state's attorney at Eberbach, Baden, an official document reciting the details surrounding the attempted abduction of Grover C. Bergdoll and Isaac Stecher at that place last Saturday. The official reports refer to assertions by the American detectives that they were under orders of the American military authorities at Coblenz.

Until this point is definitely established the German government can take no action it was said at the foreign office. The two alleged American detectives and the four German aides are still locked up in the town jail at Eberbach, according to a special dispatch from Heidelberg.

The dispatch says the two American detectives claim that they were acting under instructions from the American military authorities at Coblenz.

Seeks Citizenship.
A special dispatch to the Associated Press from Eberbach says that Stecher, chauffeur for Bergdoll who was born in Baden in 1887, re-obtained his Badenese citizenship last December. He is reported to have served in the American regular army for twelve years. Bergdoll also is seeking German citizenship.

The Public Ledger tonight received a cablegram dated Eberbach, Baden, and signed "Bergdoll," which read as follows:

"We captured six department of justice agents and threw them into prison. We are safe and sound. See the Associated Press report."

While Bergdoll was a fugitive in this country during the war the same newspaper received numerous letters and post cards bearing his signature.

BOMBSHELL DROPPED IN S. DAKOTA HOUSE
Pierre, S. D., Jan. 27.—A bombshell was dropped in the lower house today with the introduction by Representative Ohman of Beadle county of a bill standardizing citizenship under the legal merit system, to stimulate morality as a basis for temperance. The title states the bill is for the purpose of strengthening the prohibition of saloons to prevent the saloons coming back.

Freight Rate on Milk and Cream Given Boost

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Rate on milk and cream today were ordered raised to the same level as those prevailing in interstate commerce. The order was issued by the interstate commerce commission, it is effective March 7.

The commission in its decision held that the while cream rates were lower than milk rates, it was necessary to bring them into line with the prevailing rates for milk. It also ordered that some readjustments might be appropriate in individual cases but that these would be dealt with from time to time as they are brought to the commission's attention.

"Upon this record we find no conditions within Illinois so different from those affecting interstate traffic as to justify the present difference in rates," the commission said.

Illinois state traffic is not contributing its just proportion to the revenues of the carriers measured by the statutory rate of return upon the aggregate value of the railroads property of such owners.

"We are of the opinion and find that to remove the unlawful preference, prejudice and discrimination found to exist, charges for freight services and rates for the transportation of milk and cream in the state of Illinois should be increased to amounts corresponding to those authorized by the commission last August."

DEBATE ON FORDNEY TARIFF MEASURE GOES FAR AFIELD

Only One Senator Sticks to Text During Day

POINTED ARGUMENT IS DEVELOPED

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The Fordney emergency tariff bill was theoretically before the senate today but was discussed only in a speech by Senator Simmons, Democrat of North Carolina, and in a brief debate on sugar items. Speeches were so far afield at one time that Senator McCumber, Republican of North Dakota declared the senator had discussed everything from "negroes to bathtubs" and asked why the tariff should not be taken up.

Debate Is Pointed.
Tariff debate however, was not without pointed argument. Senator Simmons' speech of more than two hours was directed at what he termed the inequities of the proposed legislation. He charged that congress would be exceeding its power in enacting such legislation and asserted that its provisions were confiscatory, in that they would compel consumers to pay tribute.

Senator King, Democrat of Utah, asked during the discussion whether it would not be proper for the government to "take care of the unemployed with a pension if it were going to take care of the wheat farmer and the Louisiana sugar grower."

He declared that congress should never establish such a precedent and asserted that the lesses of other lines of trade were equally as important.

POSTPONE HEARING GENERAL PERSHING

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Bipartisan support for the naval disarmament movement was given in the senate today during discussion of Senator Borah's disarmament resolutions.

While the senate discussion was in progress the house naval committee postponed indefinitely the hearing of General Pershing on disarmament scheduled for tomorrow, because of continued illness of Representative Butler of Pennsylvania committee chairman.

Senator Borah declared that if the people of the United States, Great Britain and Japan could give voice to their opinions he felt confident they would speak for an agreement to reduce naval building.

OFFICIALS TELL STORY OF BRITISH MARINE AGREEMENT

Company's Policy Defended by President
Franklin

HOSTILE TOWARD AMERICAN COMPANY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Officials of the International Mercantile Marine Company headed by P. A. S. Franklin, president, today gave the shipping board, sitting as an investigating body, their story of their twenty year agreement with the British government stipulating that they "pursue no policy injurious to the interests of the British Mercantile Marine or of British trade."

The agreement was brought to the notice of the board last week thru an address by Senator Jones of Washington, before the National Merchant Marine association.

President Franklin vigorously defended his company's policies which he characterized as being one hundred per cent at all times. He presented a list of shareholders to substantiate his statement that 94 per cent of the company was owned by Americans "in the United States."

Subject to Requisition
Questions by the board developed that 87 per cent of the more than 1,000,000 tons of shipping operated by the International Mercantile Marine was registered abroad and was subjected to requisition by those foreign governments in case of war.

Mr. Franklin declared, however, that the stock was locked up in New York owned by Americans, and the foreign control could not affect the operation of ships owned by his company, in answer to Admiral Benson's charge that the actual control rested with foreign directors of the companies subsidiary to the International Mercantile Marine.

The next step in the inquiry into the matter will be taken by the board in executive session after the testimony has been digested by the commissioners. Until then the board officials said, tonight the question of whether the agreement operated to the detriment of American shipping as charged by Senator Jones, will remain status quo.

Regarded as Trust
Mr. Franklin in his testimony told the board that the British first regarded the International Mercantile Marine as an "American trust in England," and as an invasion of British trade.

The feeling in England was so strong, he said, that the British government was compelled to "take measures of self-protection."

It was because of anti-American sentiment in England that the admiralty proposed the agreements in 1903.

He said the agreement did not affect the vessels operated by the International Mercantile Marine under the American flag.

SENATE TO BE GIVEN TIME TO STUDY TREATY

Colby Assures Phelan State Department Will Not Approve Any Treaty With Japan Until Senate is Familiar With Provisions.

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Assurances that the state department would not give its approval to the proposed new treaty between the United States and Japan until opportunity had been afforded members of the senate and others interested to place before the department their arguments were given Senator Phelan, of California, today by Secretary Colby.

Senator Phelan called at the department to obtain information on the report submitted by Roland S. Morris, American ambassador to Japan with respect to his negotiations with Baron Shidehara, the Japanese ambassador here. Secretary Colby explained to the California senator that he had not as yet read the report.

Senator Phelan after his conference said that Secretary Colby also had assured him that no hasty action was contemplated.

Ambassador Shidehara also called at the state department. He informed the department that he had received no further information from his government relative to the London incident.

PRESIDENT WILSON GREATLY ADMIRER IN SOUTH AMERICA

Secretary of State Colby Says Better Appreciated Than in the United States—Found
Much Friendliness for This Country—
People Generally Understand Situation

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Once again at his desk at the state department after nearly two months of traveling, Secretary Colby today told of the impressions gained from his official visits to Brazil and Uruguay, and his official visit to Argentina.

"It was a broadening experience, one that I wish all my fellow countrymen might have," Mr. Colby declared. "Without exception, I found the three republics evincing the utmost friendliness for the United States as well as a profound understanding of the situation with respect to the rest of the world in which this country finds itself now that the war is over."

OPERATOR SAYS LABOR UNIONS ARE TO BLAME

Requirements Responsible for Pyramid-
ing Coal Cost

HOWATT CAUSES MUCH TROUBLE

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Labor union requirements are pyramiding costs in the coal industry and reducing the available coal supply, a senate committee was told today by Harry S. Howatt, a Kansas City coal operator opposing the Calder coal regulation bill.

In the old days under John Mitchell, miners' contracts were kept, he said, "radical leaders who control the immense fund built up under the check-off systems."

Mr. Taylor estimated that between December, 1918, and December, 1920, mines under his control had lost 1,528,335 tons of production by reason of strikes, layoffs and difficulties. One strike in Kansas, he said, made the production cost rise from $2.75 to $3.41 a ton.

Howatt Is Blamed.
That was when Alexander Howatt, of whom you may have heard, tied us up from August, 1919, to January, 1920," he added. "We have figured out that Howatt has called 705 strikes in individual mines during forty-five months, which cost the miners $3,366,780 in wages, and got them $852

"These strikes our records show, were called because Howatt was in jail, because an I. W. W. hung in there because they didn't like the entry way, because it was too cold, because of anything."

Senator Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts suggested that the displacing of English speaking people in the mines with Slavs, and eastern and southern Europeans might have caused the trouble.

The new legislator never seems happy unless he is tossing something into the hopper.

It is going to be hard on those lobbyists if the senate makes them tell who is paying their bills.

Against the discussion of proposed blue laws, the Toledo Blade remarks that the only form of amusement which some people seem to think proper is gossiping. Which causes the St. Louis Globe to remark that even this should be prohibited since "then shall not bear false witness."

It is a matter of common knowledge that the three judges now serving in this judicial district have given excellent service. Nevertheless one can hardly refrain from calling when a suggestion of non-partisanship comes from Greene county.

BUSINESS REVIVAL NEAR.

Call it "psychological" if you will but signs are multiplying that American business and industry are only awaiting the inauguration of Harding and the advent of the Republican administration to enter on an era of renewed activity.

Reports gathered by government experts confirm this, although not in so many words, perhaps. Even those who are skeptical of the judgment of official "experts" must credit the facts as they are disclosed. The unequalled resources of the government for searching out the facts of trade and industry afford a sure basis for judgment that shall influence action.

General confidence is all that is needed to expedite the return to a larger degree of commercial normalcy on which the country will thrive. That confidence, now lacking, will be restored to business and industry with a regime in power at Washington upon which the nation can rely for the same conduct of its affairs. With strengthened faith, the people need no longer postpone replenishment of supplies and the repairing of properties. A dollar wisely expended will start a train of commercial and industrial operations that will result in astonishing widespread business revival.

KILLED BY THEIR OWN PUBLICITY.

In a carefully prepared interview recently former Secretary of the Treasury W. G. McAdoo asserted that the Democratic defeat was due in a large measure to "lack of effective national organization and to the failure to get the Democratic side before the people thru proper publicity." "There is just one defect in this statement and that is it is untrue," declares the Republican Publicity Association.

"He also asserted that the Democratic party must have leadership in the future that will stay on the job and that will make the business of the Democratic party its only job. In this statement also Mr. McAdoo fails to set the true facts before his party associates."

It is scarcely necessary to remind any editor either Republican or Democratic that there was no failure to get the Democratic side before the people of the country. Every department and bureau and board and commission under the control of the Democratic party during the past eight years has conducted the most extensive publicity work that has ever been undertaken by any administration in the history of the American Republic. Floods of publicity material have gone not only to the desks of editors and have been widely published, but circulars and bulletins have been mailed extensively to individuals as well. The so-called "Official Bulletin" conducted by George Creel was largely a party publicity agency and presented as extensively as possible to the people of the country the record of pretended achievements of the Wilson administration. The fact is that the Democratic party secured so much publicity for its pretended accomplishments in the face of a record of failure well known to the people of the country that its publicity served as a detriment rather than a help in the campaign for retention of power.

A paper published in a neighboring city in speaking of that city's "greatest need" for the year 1921, says that "Our greatest need is a unanimous spirit of plucking and boosting for our own city and all of her interests, not alone in the material and commercial sense but in the higher sense of a city spirit that proclaims its interest in the welfare of all its people."

Jacksonville has taken a great step forward in the past few years along the lines quoted above. Never before in the history of our city has there been such a feeling of unanimity of plucking and boosting for our own city and all of her interests, not alone in the material and commercial sense but in the higher sense of a city spirit that proclaims its interest in the welfare of all its people.

Our city officials, as a rule, have given liberally of their time and knowledge, there has been no secrecy. Every citizen showing an interest has been confided in and advised with regarding matters affecting all. It has been community management and the result has been a period of which citizens are justly proud. A primary election will soon be held for the selection of candidates for mayor and city officers. May we not hope for a continuance of the present era of good management and good feeling. A few years ago and Jacksonville would most certainly be on the map as a city on a sound financial and business basis, as a city whose citizens are working together for the common good and as a city which has solved problems few other cities have. The fact is that the Democratic party secured so

MEDICAL MEN PAID

TRIBUTE TO DR. PITNER

Members of Morgan County Society Held Impressive Memorial Service.

At the meeting of the Morgan County Medical society held Thursday night at the public library, a notable tribute was paid to the life and work of Dr. Thomas J. Pitner. Dr. F. A. Norris, president, with Dr. A. J. Ogram serving as secretary. The membership of the society was largely represented, because thru the years Dr. Pitner had been on terms of intimacy with his associates in his professional work and was held in highest esteem by each and all.

It had been the purpose of those who arranged this program of tribute to bring to notice Dr. Pitner's well rounded life and his large contribution to the community along various lines. Dr. J. R. Hatcher told of Dr. Pitner's interest in education and in religious work, and based his remarks upon the words, "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he."

Dr. Carl E. Black referred to the interest Dr. Pitner had in the public library, to which he had contributed a great many books. He told also of the large contribution made to medical literature by Dr. Pitner, thruout the years of his practice. It was given to Dr. J. W. Hargrove to speak of Dr. Pitner as a consultant and he laid emphasis upon the value that physicians placed upon the advice of the deceased. The interest, the fairness, the ability that he always displayed in this capacity made him a service as a consultant frequently in demand.

Dr. Pitner by common consents was a great community asset and it was as such that Dr. H. C. Wolman discussed his life. He made reference to Dr. Pitner's courage, which marked his life all thru the years, the courage which met physical weakness without dismay, which overcame obstacles and which the life work continue until almost the closing days.

Then, a few moments were devoted to reminiscences of early relations with Dr. Pitner. Among the physicians who spoke were: Dr. A. L. Adams, Dr. T. O. Hardesty, Dr. C. E. Cole, Dr. G. R. Cole, Dr. G. R. Bradley. The service was one of the most impressive in the records of the Morgan county society, of which Dr. Pitner was thru so long a period an honored and revered member.

Dr. D. W. Reid introduced the following resolution which was unanimously adopted.

Whereas, death has taken Dr. Thomas J. Pitner from our midst, the members of the Morgan County Medical Society consider it a privilege to record our appreciation of his character and to declare our sorrow at his death; and Whereas, Dr. Pitner, a scholar and a Christian gentleman, held thru over 50 years of service in our society, and in our community a unique position, because he gave in unstinted measure of himself, a standard of high standard of medical proficiency and to shape the policy of the society toward elevating the profession; therefore be it

Resolved, that in the passing of Dr. Pitner the members have suffered a loss that will be felt as long as memory lives. The loss of a friend kindly and courteous; of a colleague helpful and fair and of unending integrity; of a citizen of great public spirit, with malice toward none and with charity toward all; and be it further

Resolved, that we convey to Mrs. Pitner our sympathy with a copy of these resolutions and that the resolutions be embodied in our records and that they be sent to the Illinois Medical Journal.

Whereas, we have two members of our society who have been practicing medicine continuously in Morgan Co. for over fifty years and been members of this society since its organization.

Therefore, be it moved that Dr. E. F. Baker and T. A. Wakely from this time forth so long as either shall live, that their names be placed on the honor roll of all the privileges of the society and free from assessments or fees.

M'COLLISTER ONCE

MORE UNDER ARREST

Fugitive Caught by Chicago Police According to Message Received by Sheriff Weatherford.

Sheriff Weatherford left for Chicago last night to take charge of Eddie McCollister, who is under arrest there. The sheriff received a message Thursday night from the chief of detectives of Chicago stating that McCollister had been arrested and asking when an officer would come to Chicago for him. Immediately upon receipt of this telegram Sheriff Weatherford made arrangements for the Chicago trip.

Ten days ago, after McCollister made his getaway from the Morgan county jail Sheriff Weatherford sent the Chicago police department full particulars of the escape and furnished addresses where the Jacksonville young man might seek out relatives or friends. He also offered a reward of $50 for McCollister's arrest. The information and the offer of reward evidently did the work and once more McCollister is in custody. Sheriff Weatherford said last night that it would have been a good thing for the county if McCollister never returned, but he did not want it said that the prisoner had slipped thru his fingers.

He was general manager of the Central Union Telephone company for the Illinois division from January, 1914, to December 1, 1920.

During the period that he was general manager, the Central Union Telephone company progressed thru one of the most critical stages of its existence. Shortly after the company passed from under the control of the receivers, it was placed under government supervision. At the close of the world war, when prices for all commodities were soaring sky-high and supplies uncertain, the question of securing adequate rates for existence became paramount. C. H. ROTTGER HOLDS IMPORTANT POSITION

Former Jacksonville Man Now Vice President of Indiana Bell Telephone Co.—Career Reviewed by Bell Telephone News.

The Bell Telephone News in the last issue contains an interesting article with reference to the career of Curtis H. Rottger, who has become vice-president of the Indiana Bell Telephone Co. There is local interest in Mr. Rottger's fine record from the fact that he began his activities in this city. The position he now holds is one of even larger influence than the post of general manager for the Central Union Telephone Co., in Illinois, which he held for several years prior to his recent transfer to Indiana.

A. L. Taylor, district manager of the Bell Co., here, called attention locally to the article, which is quoted herewith. It was written by W. S. Loester. The announcement of the resignation of Curtis H. Rottger, general manager of the Central Union Telephone company for Illinois, and his acceptance of the position of vice president of the Indiana Bell Telephone company, was greeted by the employees of the former Illinois division with expressions of joyful pride for his promotion and continued success, but in terms of sad regret that he would no longer be directly associated with them as their executive, adviser and friend.

C. H. Rottger, telephone pioneer, who has been an employee of the Central Union Telephone company since its inception in 1883, is again at the crossroads leading to larger activities. The officials, employees and business associates in both the Bell and independent telephone companies will feel keenly the loss of his advice, wisdom and courage such as he has displayed in the solution of telephone problems in the Illinois division. His enthusiasm and quiet aggressiveness have had their reward in the building up of a strong, loyal organization.

An Absorbing Interest. "My earliest recollection of the telephone has been that of absorbing interest," said Mr. Rottger, in commenting on how he was attracted to the telephone field as his life's work.

"As a boy when I played around the Western Union telegraph office at Jacksonville, Illinois, there was that feeling of scientific mystery of the operation of the telegraph which attracted me. It was the spirit of inquisitiveness of youth that lured me on to learn to send—to be able to handle the key. Shortly after my experience with the telegraph, I was employed as night operator at the Jacksonville telephone exchange," he continued.

It is with the same spirit so apparent in his youth that he left Springfield to assume his new duties at Indianapolis.

In 1881 a telephone exchange and outside plant was built in Jacksonville, Illinois, known as the Jacksonville Telephone company financed by local capital and licensed to operate in Morgan county. At this exchange, while attending the Jacksonville high school, Mr. Rottger was given a position as night operator. After completing his education in 1883, his status was changed to that of a regular employee and his duties consisted of operating, switchboard work and constructing and maintaining the outside plant.

In June, 1883, the Central Union Telephone company was organized and incorporated in Morgan county. The Jacksonville exchange with eight stations was one of the purchases of the new company. This was the beginning of his service with the Bell company.

Made Manager of Exchange. In March, 1884, John W. Hobbs was appointed manager at Jacksonville. R. B. Hoover, superintendent of the Third Illinois district, selected C. H. Rottger for the position of manager of the Paris, Illinois, exchange.

After several months' service at Paris, Mr. Rottger was transferred as manager to Muncie, Indiana. In May, 1885, he was given the opportunity to return to his home town as manager of the Jacksonville exchange. Here he remained until 1892, when he was offered the important management of the Springfield, Illinois, exchange—which at that time was serving more than 600 patrons. After being assigned district manager on April 1, 1901, for the Springfield territory, he assumed supervision over the exchanges at Springfield, Lincoln, Mason City and Petersburg.

From 1903 until 1914, when Mr. Rottger was appointed general manager for Illinois, he held the positions of division superintendent, general manager and commercial superintendent. He was general manager of the Central Union Telephone company for the Illinois division from January, 1914, to December 1, 1920.

Piloted Company Thru Trying Days.

During the period that he was general manager, the Central Union Telephone company progressed thru one of the most critical stages of its existence. Shortly after the company passed from under the control of the receivers, it was placed under government supervision. At the close of the world war, when prices for all commodities were soaring sky-high and supplies uncertain, the question of securing adequate rates for existence became paramount. Many of the problems arising from the war are now in the process of solution, but the situation is not so acute and conditions so aggravated as they were then. During this period Mr. Rottger piloted the company, holding her nose to the storm and far from the treacherous shoals that wrecked so many financial crafts during those trying days.

"There has never been a time in the history of the telephone that looks so bright as today—especially in the opportunity that is offered ambitious employees," said Mr. Rottger in commenting on the future development of the telephone industry. The remark was made in the true spirit of his constructive imagination, which he has applied so successfully in the managing and organizing of the Illinois division.

Exceptional Capabilities.

C. H. Rottger's business ability and integrity have never been doubted in the long years of his telephone experience. No man could come in contact with him without being impressed and convinced of his exceptional capabilities. These qualities won for him the well earned admiration that he deserved, but were not responsible for his popularity as a man. He always acted in terms of fairness and sincerity. The straightforwardness that he displayed to all with whom he dealt always resulted in enduring friendship. The knowledge of human nature, together with his kindred sympathy made language he spoke common to all classes. He understood linemen, operators, clerks, bookkeepers and installers because he at one time performed the same labors during the various stages of his telephone career. His gentlemanly bearing, kind attitude and self poise won much more than admiration. These traits predominated prompting his actions and decisions as an executive.

The spirit of justice and fairness which so consistently tempered his judgment, will not be forgotten by the former Illinois division employees. The business principles that he instilled among employees will live long after he is gone.

"At the end of the day's work leave your desk in such a condition that another who is not familiar with the duties can start the next morning where you left off." This was not his motto or hobby, but a personal practice. He expected all employees to do likewise.

In speaking of the evolution of the Central Union Telephone company and its conversion into the Illinois Bell Telephone company, the recently selected vice president of the Indiana Bell Telephone company says:

Results are Gratifying. "The stride made in Illinois in endeavoring to render the telephone users universal service have been most gratifying. The future development of the Bell interests in Illinois will be greatly strengthened by the consolidation with the Chicago Telephone company."

"Our telephone service can be very easily compared with the government postal service. There are many small post-offices in thinly settled communities that are failures in a financial way—but are extremely essential in the development of the postal system generally. While many of the Illinois exchanges do not earn sufficient revenue to make them self-sustaining, yet they form part of the organized system that gives the telephone patron the benefit of reaching every accessible telephone. It is true with the telephone business, as in almost every other line of industry, that the larger stronger companies must help share the expense of maintaining the weaker for the benefit of all."

Son Is General Manager.

Mr. Rottger's entire hope and ambitions have been woven around the telephone. During his early training at Jacksonville he selected a woman who knew and understood his inspirations—that is probably the reason why he chose a former telephone employee for his helpmate thru life. His son, R. C. Rottger, after receiving his college training at the University of Illinois, applied his technical knowledge as a lineman and installer. R. C. Rottger is now general manager of the Vermilion County Telephone company.

REV. W. E. COLLINS MAY GO TO MUSKEGON

Well Known Congregational Pastor Called to Influential Church in Northern City.

While no action has been taken by the Congregational church, or its pastor, Rev. W. E. Collins, it is known that Mr. Collins has received a call to the Congregational church of Muskegon, Mich. The church in the northern city has a membership of 700 and the salary offered is $4,000 and a parsonage. At the prayer meeting service Wednesday night Mr. Collins read a telegram from Muskegon outlining the terms of the offer which includes his moving expenses. This is the third largest Congregational church in the state of Michigan and the opportunity for work is one which cannot fail to appeal to the Jacksonville minister, who is just finishing up two years of service at the local church.

Mr. Collins came to Jacksonville from Waukegan, where he had a successful pastorate of three years. It is known that Mr. Collins has received a number of offers since he has been in Jacksonville, especially because of his interest in young people's work.

As indicated, no action has been taken by the local church, and in fact the minister's resignation has not been filed, tho that action is likely to take place in the course of a short time. If Mr. Collins goes from Jacksonville at this time to the larger field, he will leave as a record an excellent piece of work in the development he has brought about in the larger understanding of the importance of religious education.

Chicago Tribune

The year just begun demands that we make strenuous efforts to serve, and business to be successful will have to be a genuine public service. It is difficult to estimate the thousands of dollars we have saved the people of this community by bringing high grade merchandise at lowest prices and forcing down gradually, but effectively, prices on practically all the necessities of life. Market prices have not been lowered within the past week. Our low prices are due to the fact that we are willing to do business on a very small margin, and sell at goods quick, allowing us to go into the market the following week and take advantage of any circumstances that enables us to buy below production costs, while the merchant who is still insisting on his regular profit is not in a position to buy till he first sells his stock which he is not doing.

440 Cases of Cudahy's Golden Rod Borax Naptha Washing Powder

3 LARGE SIZE PACKAGES, 7½ POUNDS, sold all over the world at 35c each. Our price as long as it lasts:

3 Large Package for 55c 10c packages, 5 for 25c

This is cheaper than hotels, hospitals etc., are able to buy the cheapest unknown common washing powders in barrels which cost 10c per pound or more.

This is a standard nationally advertised product made by the makers of Old Dutch Cleanser, is the only washing powder containing both borax and naptha which, as you know, are considered the best softening and cleansing agents known. With this wonderful powder scrubbing is not necessary, only with extremely soiled garments and it is especially recommended for washing fine linens, silks, laces, etc. The naptha used being odorless and of the best quality to be had. Boxes, the best known softener will not harm the hands, but it sells at 20c for a very small package considered too expensive by manufacturers and housewives, so here's your chance if you get here soon enough. Like our last week's soap sale it won't last long. Like it also we may make other merchants sacrifice the few boxes they have on hand, but we will gladly buy all that can be had at this price which is less than the cost of manufacturing. Limit, 20 small boxes or six large packages to the person. You lose money if you miss this opportunity.

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT IMPLEMENTS

Government Issues Price Chart Showing Implement Prices Not Out of Proper Relationship.

In recent weeks farmers have been called upon to compare prices of farm products and farm implements with the prices for other commodities and for labor. Those farmers who have really studied the question have found according to a government chart recently published, that the costs for implements have not been as high as for other commodities and that the relationships between farm implements and products have not been as diverse and unsatisfactory as they have sometimes thought.

According to this government chart, the relative spread between the different items of farm products, other commodities, labor and farm implements during 1914 and 1915 was not very wide. However, in 1916 farm products traveled away from everything else. When the prices for farm products had been well nigh doubled, the price of implements had been increased but between 15 and 20 per cent. This was at a time that the salesman, clerk, warehouseman, people and service men all began to face the high cost of living, and were paid more money. There was a period of 18 months wherein the farmer, according to the government chart, was realizing splendid prices and wherein labor secured practically no relief and implements and other commodities did not sharply advance.

After the armistice and when federal control was removed, all prices shot upward. Labor continued to advance at about the same rate as before, and the element of speculation entered into many commodities including those produced by the farmer. But in the case of implements speculation did not enter into the consideration—that is, one dealer did not resell to another at 15, 20 or 30 per cent profit, as was true with grain, cotton, livestock, sugar, silk, hides, leather and steel. Jobbers in farm implements did not barter among themselves and so the increase in implement prices that came was not the result of an inflation from speculation.

A study of the chart shows that had implement prices been increased relatively to other commodities, and taken the speculative rise and consequent drop, that they would today be 15 per cent higher than they are.

FARM BUREAU SESSION
HELD AT MURRAYVILLE

Large Attendance and Lively Interest—Favor Storage of Limestone and Phosphate.

One of the best of the series of meetings under the auspices of the farm bureau was that held at the town hall in Murrayville Thursday afternoon. County Agent Kendall was one of the speakers, as was E. M. Phillips, farm advisor of Greene county. The subjects presented resulted in spirited discussion, but there was unanimous opinion in favor of a program for the larger use of limestone and phosphate made possible thru storage at central points. S. A. Braxwell brought up the pertinent question as to whether it is wise for the farm bureau to seek increased production at this time, when prices are so much depressed.

County Agent Kendall said this was really a question for serious consideration, but there could be no denying the value of increasing the acreage sown to legume crops for the greatest benefit will come in after years with the larger production and when price levels have been fixed.

CHOKING CAUSED DEATH OF 6 MONTHS OLD BABY

Choking caused the death of six months old Carl Wheeler, colored, infant of Mrs. Irene Wheeler, 330 South West street, corner's jury decided today. Evidence showed that the baby was just recovering from an attack of measles and this probably contributed to its death.

The mother stated at the inquest that about 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon the child seemed to be strangling. She attempted to help him get his breath by shaking him, but this did no good. She then hurried for assistance and neighbors who entered a minute or two later declared that the baby showed no signs of life then.

Serving on the coroner's jury were C. W. Jackson, Charles L. Stark, John Lewis, Annie Lillard, Sallie Williams and Herbert Lynch.

Funeral services for the child will be held at 10:30 o'clock Friday morning, with burial in Jacksonville cemetery.

The producing company supplies elaborate stage settings and costumes for all those who take part in the entertainment. Thirty young ladies appear with an equal number of young men in the cast. Those who have attended the rehearsals and have seen the outlined program are enthusiastic in saying that this will be one of the best home talent productions that has ever been given in Jacksonville.

M. C. Hook yesterday accepted the chairmanship for a special campaign for Central European and Near East relief funds which will be put on in this city within the course of a very few days. Mr. Hook in consultation yesterday with Co-chairmen Rev. W. H. March and Rev. M. L. Pontius and others, decided upon a definite city organization plan.

Teams of workers will be speedily chosen and it is the expectation that the work of solicitation will begin not later than Monday, and possibly before that time. Already an appeal has been made thru the churches and some other organizations and there have also been various individual subscriptions forwarded to state or national headquarters.

W. E. SULLIVAN HEADS GOOD ROADS WORKERS

Annual Meeting of Morgan County Association Held Thursday Night.

A meeting of the Morgan County Roads association was held at the court house last night. V. R. Riley presided and LeRoy Potter served as secretary. Mr. Riley reported briefly to some of the work and difficulties of the association and a brief report was presented by the secretary. On motion, the chair appointed a committee on nomination including H. L. Caldwell, George S. Beekman and LeRoy Potter. This committee later made a report suggesting the following officers:

President—W. E. Sullivan. Vice-president—John Snyder. Secretary—William Batz. Treasurer—Edward Williamson.

By unanimous vote these officers were elected. Later Mr. Batz explained that it would be impossible for him to accept, as did A. C. Metcalf and Ira Paterson who were also suggested for the secretaryship. Mr. Riley called attention to the fact that the constitution provides the way for the executive committee to fill vacancies and Mr. Potter will serve until his successor has been chosen. The nominating committee reported the names of V. R. Riley, L. V. Baldwin and J. W. Walton to serve with the officers as members of the executive committee.

Mr. Sullivan, who is an enthusiastic good roads advocate, was called on and spoke briefly. Mr. Sullivan believes that with good proper co-operative effort that a good deal may be accomplished in pushing the good roads movement. He has called a meeting of the executive committee to be held at the office of Mr. Baldwin in the city hall building next Tuesday night at 8 o'clock.

Every Drop an Asset

AS a dairy farmer you can figure out to the penny what your cream is worth. You know that every particle of butter fat has a distinct value to you. You cannot afford to use a separator that misses any cream.

The Primrose Cream Separator gets every drop of cream. The principle on which it operates is as simple as the mechanism. The frame is open and sanitary—the supply can large and low. Every bearing and quiet gear is well oiled by a splash system.

In Primrose separators, good workmanship and materials, close skimming and durable qualities, are the distinguishing points.

No matter what the size of your herd, the Primrose is a money-maker. Two-or-three-cow farmers use them with profit.

The Primrose is the only cream separator that automatically drains out the used oil from the gear case when new oil is added.

Let us demonstrate this and other points. If it is not convenient for you to call, phone us and we will bring a machine out and show you how it operates and what its financial advantages are to you.

LET'S HELP GO AND DOES WORK HERSELF

Illinois Woman Says Tanlac Has Restored Her To Perfect Health—Ten Years Suffering Overcome.

"I have let my hired help go now because Tanlac has built me up so wonderfully I can do the housework all by myself," declared Mrs. Della Fanning, 322 E. Independence Ave., Jacksonville, Ill., a few days ago.

"I have been suffering for ten years with stomach trouble and then last February I began to grow worse rapidly. I had been operated on several years before but my old troubles seemed to be as bad as ever and I feared another operation. There was an awful burning like fire in my stomach nearly all the time and I could retain scarcely a thing I ate. Sometimes

I became so dizzy and fainty I couldn't see a thing and would have to go lie down until the spells passed over. I became so weak and run down that I wasn't able to do the housework and had to hire help. My whole body ached and I was so nervous that at times I just seemed to be on pins.

"It was my sister who advised me to try Tanlac and I can't thank her for telling me about it. I took six bottles in all and it restored my health perfectly. This was some time ago and I have felt just splendid ever since. I enjoy everything I eat, am not a bit nervous and never have a dizzy spell. That aches, tired feeling has all gone and I sleep just fine. Tanlac has been a blessing and joy I can never forget."

Tanlac is sold in Jacksonville by Coover Drug Co., Wyle Drug Co., Franklin and Waverly and leading drug stores in all cities.—Adv.

MORE LEGUMES IN FARMING OPERATIONS

Restoration of pre-war conditions is the popular cry. Agricultural readjustments must inevitably develop slowly. In the very nature of things, farming systems require long periods of time for readjustment. This explains why we have just harvested a war crop two years after the war was over. Farming systems and crop rotations in Illinois are more out of their proper alignment than they have been within recent years. But even in pre-war conditions our farming systems were decidedly unbalanced. We have now reached a point where we dare stop to take an inventory of our farming operations and to consult our compass to see where we are headed.

A careful survey just completed in Vermilion county shows an average of only 9 per cent of the cultivated land in legumes; red clover making up 8.1 per cent and 9-10 of one per cent was alfalfa and soybeans. In some parts of the county the per cent of legumes was as low as two per cent. Expressed in another way, this means a legume in every eleven years, or in some communities once every fifty years. The inevitable results of such unbalanced cropping systems are only too well known. Unless we can immediately take steps to correct this condition, we will undoubtedly pay heavily in decreased yields, more serious outbreaks of crop diseases, more frequent and more disastrous insect ravages and an inferior quality of products grown.

By the liberal use of limestone and rock phosphate and legumes in sufficient amount to properly balance the cropping system, the actual acre yields will be increased, the fertility will be maintained, cropping problems will be more easily solved, labor distribution will be more easily take care of and general farming systems will be more desirable. While many farmers are seeking a system that should prove immediately profitable, the provident farmer is now looking for a system which will cut down costs, build up the soils and provide a better crop rotation—a rotation that will make more efficient use of labor and equipment. Such a rotation should provide for clovers or other legumes to appear in the rotation at least once in every four years, i. e., at least one fourth of the crop area should be in some leguminous crop each year. Only such a system will prepare the farming business for the profitable times which must inevitably come.

FOR THAT COUGH

Champaign, Ill.—"When I was a young woman working in a laundry, the steam I inhaled affected my bronchial tubes so that I had a continuous cough, worse at night than during the day. A friend advised me to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Dr. Pierce's Cough Syrup and these two remedies gave me immediate relief, eventually curing me of all bronchial weakness. I am glad to recommend such worthy remedies as Dr. Pierce's."

SEASONS OF THE YEAR ARE NOT CHANGING

According to U. S. Weather Bureau Expert, No Radical Change in Seasons Has Come About Since 1790.

Springfield, Ill.—By the A. P. —Seasons of the years are not changing as radically as some people believe, reports Clarence J. Root, meteorologist of the U. S. Weather Bureau here. His comment was called out by the declaration of one of the old inhabitants of the city that "the seasons are changing, and we do not have the cold weather we did when I was a boy."

In explaining weather conditions and changes in the seasons since 1790, Mr. Root said:

With the exceptions of a few months in 1795, continuous temperature records have been maintained at New Haven, Conn. since February, 1789. I have averaged the annual mean temperature value by decades, with the following results:

For the Ten Years Ending	Mean Tem. (F)
1790 .....	49.0
1800 .....	50.0
1810 .....	50.4
1820 .....	47.5
1830 .....	49.3
1840 .....	47.8
1850 .....	49.2
1860 .....	48.9
1870 .....	49.1
1880 .....	49.7
1890 .....	48.9
1900 .....	49.
1910 .....	49.5
1920 .....	50.5

"It will be noted that the warmest three periods are those ending in 1800, 1810 and 1920 and the coldest decade immediately follows the second warmest, 1820.

Considering the individual months and the individual years, it was found that the coldest January occurred as late as 1857. The coldest February occurred eight years later. The coldest March was in 1870 and 1885. The coldest April was in 1874 and many years after the warmest one. In May, I found a number of years with the same lowest temperature, 1812, 1815, 1870 and 1882 and the highest figures for June were in 1779, 1790 and 1876. In July, the lowest temperature was in 1816 with the warmest as early as 1780 and as late as 1876. The coldest August occurred 61 years after the warmest and for September, the coolest months were in the earlier years, but for October, November and December, the coldest in each case.

"Thus it will be seen that in nine months of the year, the coldest one on record occurred after the warmest. These figures would indicate very clearly that since the time of the Revolutionary war, at least, there has been no permanent change in temperature."

PLANNED TO FLOOD MILWAUKEE WITH "MULE"

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 26.—A scheme to flood Milwaukee with alcohol, watered and colored and sold as whiskey, was uncovered today when sixty gallons of alcohol and quantities of counterfeit labels and "strip" stamps seized at the Chicago and Northwestern depot.

There were 12 five gallon cans of ethyl alcohol in the trunks. The counterfeit labels bore the name "J. M. Taylor, reye whiskey."

They also bore the words "a brand bottle by Good Heart-Hartman company, Chicago, contents 32 fluid ounces."

GRAIN RECEIPTS IN KANSAS CITY HEAVY

Kansas City, Mo.—Despite the volpinning of grain prices during the past few months and agitation among farmers to hold the products for a better market, receipts of wheat, corn and oats at Kansas City have been heavy for the past few weeks, according to W. R.
Scott, traffic manager of the Kansas City Board of Trade.

The shipments are moving freely, Mr. Scott asserted. Railroads are supplying plenty of cars and handling all the grain that is offered.

No relief from the high freight rates on grain is in sight, Mr.
Scott added, in view of the heavy operating expenses of the railroads. The roads, he continued, have been unable to realize the six percent earnings guaranteed by the Esch-Cummings law to recompense the roads for losses during government operation. The heavy roads have been able to do, he said, was 4.9 percent for October.

Since 1916 freight rates on grain have increased 68.7 percent, he said.

DENTISTS OF STATE TO MEET IN CHICAGO

Various Subjects of Importance to Profession to Come Before
Meeting of Chicago Dental Society Today.

Chicago.—(By The A. P.)—What is a Dental Hygienist? Answer: "She is a woman." The several thousand dentists from all over the United States and Canada who will meet here tomorrow to attend the fifty-seventh anniversary of the Chicago Dental Society will attempt to devise ways and means to induce legislatures to recognize her in the same category as that of the trained nurse.

Dr. C. N. Johnson of this city says: "Under the present laws of a large number of our states, in fact of a large majority of them, no one but a registered dentist can do even such a small duty as to clean the teeth of school children. The purpose of the Dental hygienist would be to serve humanity by being an assistant to the dentist, just as the trained nurse is to the doctor."

A feature of the meeting here will be the inauguration of a nation-wide mouth hygiene movement which will have for its object the betterment of mouth conditions in the child by means of instruction in this subject in the schools. It is intended to incorporate in this teaching practical demonstration in the proper use of the brush and other ways to clean the teeth and a study of the relation of healthy mouths to healthy bodies.

Plans for the establishment of dental infirmaries in large cities will be discussed.

Thomas A. Forsyth who contributed $8,000.00 to found and maintain the Forsyth Infirmary of Boston will be the guest of honor.

There will be a meeting of dentists and physicians tomorrow night, a public meeting Friday afternoon and a banquet Friday night.

In connection with the inauguration of a campaign of education in the public schools on the importance of oral hygiene, it is pointed out that millions of dollars are spent annually in re-denturing children, due to the expense of having $2.00 to $5.00 for each child because of its necessity to report school work due to weakened physical condition. The importance of oral hygiene to promote a policy of possible defects which impede the child's mental progress will be emphasized.

Demonstrations will be given by dentists and dental hygienists from the Forsyth Infirmary, the Rochester Dental Dispensary, the Bridgeport, Conn. public school dental service and the Columbia University Dental Hygienists School and others which have developed this work extensively.

MANY ILLINOIS TENANT FARMERS BANKRUPT

Springfield, Ill.—More tenant farmers of Illinois went bankrupt during the past three months than for any like period in many years past, records in the office of the clerk of the United States District Court here indicate.

The records also show that more tenant farmers filed petitions in bankruptcy during the past year than any other class of tradesmen.

Robert Brown, clerk, declared that many farmers who filed the petitions told him they did not realize any profit from some of their crops, principally corn.

Grocers, merchants and contractors filed the second greatest number of petitions in bankruptcy.

E. E. Crabtree is treasurer for the Famine Relief Fund in Jacksonville and Morgan County and all contributions for the Near East and Central European Relief should be sent to him.

Your family will welcome
